A FEW HINTS ON CULTURE

The culture for outdoors of Daffodils, Tulips and Hyacinths is very easy and we herewith submit a few general practical hints, while we will gladly give any special advice as to the treatment in different cases if requested.

Planting Time. The best time is early part of September especially for Daffodils. Hyacinths and Tulips can stand planting in October and even later much better than Daffodils, the latter growing much weaker and giving smaller flowers when planted late in the season.

Depth to Plant. Do not plant too deep. This will cause to do away with the favoring sunny warmth. A good general rule is to cover the bulbs with soil no more than one and a half times its own depth. In other words we would advise to plant no bulbs deeper than 4 inches.

Manure. Unless Daffodils and Tulips are planted on a very sandy and unfertile soil they do not require much manuring. Where manure is given, the most certain results are given by stable manure because by using this, one is certain to serve all elementary necessary plant foods and to give a general rule for the use of chemical fertilizers is not easy, because much depends on the condition of the soil. Give no stable manure, however, in too fresh condition. Hyacinths are more grateful for manuring.

Condition of Soil. It is of great importance that before bulbs are planted the soil should be well turned and loosened to a depth of 1½ feet. This loosening should be done at least 10 days before planting.

Covering Against Frost. In order to protect the bulbs, especially Hyacinths which are most liable to freeze, cover the soil during the Winter months with foliage, or straw, or peat fiber, to be removed as early as danger is over. Of course, one is never to touch the tops of the bulbs when they are in a frozen condition. In case the tops of the bulbs grow weak in Springtime under the covering, it is advisable to remove part of it.

HYACINTHS

There are hardly any flowers more suitable for bedding outside than Hyacinths. The clear and bright colors in all the different shades of white, red, blue, yellow and lavender together with the rich green foliage give a most charming and lovely effect.

Another attraction is to grow Hyacinths in glasses. This is very easy to do. Glasses should be thoroughly cleansed and filled with water. Though not necessary, it is advisable to put a piece of charcoal in the glass in order to keep the water pure. Bulbs are put in the glasses so that the bottom just touches the water. Keep the glasses in a dark cupboard or cellar until the bulbs have well rooted and then bring them gradually into full light. For this purpose we offer 12 extra selected top roots in red, white and blue for $1.80.

The following listed varieties we offer 1 doz. for $1.50, each 15c.

TULIPS

Single Early Tulips

These Tulips flower two and three weeks earlier than the other classes and are especially easier to force. Their stems are not growing so high so that they are exceedingly fit for bedding. We are listing only a few of the very best but we can supply any variety you might want.

The leading forcing varieties are marked , the most used bedding varieties are marked *. If grown outside, varieties marked D are Dwarf, M medium height and T are tall varieties.

		Doz.	100
D*	Artus. Dark scarlet, large, elegant flower, splendid for bedding.	$0.60	$4.00
D	Belle Alliance (Waterloo). Brilliant scarlet, large flower, sweet-scented, good for forcing and for bedding.	.60	4.00
M	Chrysolora. Pure yellow, large flower, excellent for forcing. The best for bedding on account of its long keeping qualities.	.50	3.50
D*	Cottage Maid. Dark rose with white shade; a grand variety for bedding.	.60	4.00

Tulip, Chrysolora

Tulip, Keizerskroon

		Doz.	100

Tulips, White Swan

Early Double Tulips

ARRANGEMENTS FOR PLANTING DOUBLE TULIPS IN BEDS

Double Tulips should be planted one variety in each bed, grouping different varieties does not produce such a good effect. We advise for that purpose the following splendid varieties: Couronne d'Or, La Candeur, Le Matador, Murillo.

	Doz.	100
T Couronne d'Or. Fine old-gold-yellow color with slight orange shade; large, well formed flower of great substance and on strong stem; extra for forcing. The only popular double yellow Tulip. A market variety of great merit.	$.60	$4.50

D* Rubra Maxima. Dark red, excellent for bedding.	.60	4.50
D Tea Rose (Brimstone, Safrano). Sulphur yellow, sport of Murillo, when fully developed it is slightly orange shaded. A grand flower for all purposes.	.60	4.50
D Vuurbaak. Dazzling scarlet, enormous large, very double flower on strong stem. The best for medium early and later forcing. Grand also for bedding.	.70	5.25
Superfine Rainbow Mixed. All colors, specially made up of good varieties.	.60	4.25

Double Tulips, La Candeur

Cottage or May-flowering Tulips

Cottage Tulip, Inglescombe Yellow

These Tulips flower at the same time as the Darwins and are practically a completion to the latter. The yellow, bronze and white colors that are missing in the Darwins are represented in this class in numerous shades.

This class of Tulips is specially suitable for planting outside in herbaceous and shrubby borders and for naturalization in grass.

	Doz.	100
* Bouton d'Or (Ida). Golden yellow, great substance.	$.60	$4.50
* Caledonia. Orange-vermilion, distinct. Very fine for outdoor cutting.	.60	4.50

Fine Mixture.	.60	4.50

TULIPS—Continued

Bizarres and Bybloemens

One of the oldest types of Tulips with queerly striped and feathered flowers, the ground color being yellow with the Bizarres, and white with the Bybloemens.

They bloom at about the same time as the Darwins and other late Tulips.

The flowers which are smaller than those of the Darwins are gracefully carried on fairly tall stems.

Darwin Tulips

This beautiful strain of Tulips is of unsurpassed value for garden and house decoration. They are vigorous growers on long stems which make them specially adaptable as cut flowers. The cup-shaped flowers rival with each other in beauty of color.

Taking the richness of color as a whole we may say that brilliant red dominates, and taking that as a center all the various shades of pink and rosy-white on the one side and crimson and purple till purple-black on the other side, are found among them. And yet there are numerous other shades such as mauve, violet, etc., to break this color fusion.

They commence flowering in the latter part of April or first days of May and continue about all through this month and so make a charming effect in beds and in the herbaceous borders and in grass, at a season when flowers outside are scarce and therefore so much the more welcome.

In pots these Tulips are lovely, and they may be brought in flower in March when gently forced, and will then give a most charming effect to dinner table or drawing room. Except a few special early forcing varieties one should not bring the Tulips in the warmth before the end of February. Towards development of the buds give as much light as possible.

	Doz.	100		Doz.	100
* Anton Roozen. Vivid rose-pink with white base marked blue, handsome and beautiful. Height, 25 in.		$0.65	$4.50
* Baronne de la Tonnaye. Bright rose, margined blush-rose, beautiful shaped and flower of large size, splendid forcer. Height, 26 in.65	4.50
* Bartigon. Carmine-red, grand forcer.	.75	5.00
Bleu Aimable. Bright violet-purple, shaded steel-blue, inside dark violet-purple with a blue base, very large and handsome. Height, 26 in.70	5.25
* Clara Butt. Clear, self-colored salmon rosy-pink, the finest Darwin Tulip of its class; an exquisite flower on the merits of which there is only one uniform opinion. Height, 21 in.65	4.50
* Farncombe Sanders. Fiery rose-scarlet, inside vivid cerise-scarlet with white center marked blue; large, broad petaled flower of perfect shaped; one of the finest varieties, if not the finest of all the red and salmon-colored varieties, splendid forcer. Height, 25 in.	$0.75	$5.00
* Gretchen. Silvery pale rose, flushed white, inside soft pink with white center marked blue, a very beautiful flower of delicate color. Height, 24 in.65	4.50
Kate Greenaway. White, slightly flushed lilac-rose, medium size, flower of perfect shape. Height, 20 in.60	4.50
* King Harold. Deep purple-red with white base; a beautiful variety for the garden, standing the weather well. Height, 24 in.75	5.00

Breeder Tulips

Breeder Tulips, although in growth and habits closely related to the Cottage and Darwin Tulips, form a distinct class by themselves, comprised of only self-colors, running through all the shades of brown, bronze and buff.

With their large and gorgeously colored flowers, which are gracefully carried on tall, strong stems, and their fine lasting qualities, they make excellent material for garden decorations, and are very desirable as cut flowers.

CROCUS

A universal favorite, being one of the earliest flowers seen in the Spring. They are neat, dwarf and compact in growth, and the blooms are of bright colors. If planted closely they make a very pretty display immediately after the snow goes off in the Spring. Should be largely planted in the grass on lawns. The effect is beautiful. For flowering in pots, baskets, etc.
